chef tracy's favorites:

FARTHEST STAR 'MOUNTAINS ON THE MOON' NIGORI 207ML

We are thrilled that Todd Bellomy, of the famed Dovetail Sake, is now producing local sake again with his new venture, Farthest Star. Todd's artisanal craft mirrors that of sake makers with whom he studied in Japan, as he sources the premium yamada nishiki grain rice from Arkansas. His meticulous process includes sleeping overnight at the brewery to ensure proper incubation time of the rice and koji. The result is a balanced, unfilted nigori like no other: not too sweet, soft, and fruity.

ORLEANS MANZANILLA FINA

Owned by the Spanish royal family, this wine is literally 'fit for a King' as its supply outside of Royal House was once limited. Only sherries hailing from the fishing village of Sanlucar de Barrameda can be called 'manzanilla', a complex style of fino. With tangy aromas of lemon curd, almond, toasted bread, this sherry is Chef Tracy's top pick to pair with anything seafood, nutty, fried, or rich and porky.

AMA BREWERY PÉT-NAT TEA HIRU

Our friends Dani Lasa and Ramón Perise, head chefs of two star Michelin restaurant Mugaritz just outside of San Sebastian, Spain have created a delicious 6 month aged pet-nat tea, sourcing some of the finest and rarest teas in collaboration with the Rare Tea Lady. To say 'kombucha' would be insufficient, as there isn't yet a product that matches this quality and uniqueness in the world. With notes of papaya, hay, dried herbs with super fine bubbles and effervescence, the palate is left with a clean, crisp finish. This is the perfect for fans of low ABV bevys, natural wines, cava and champagne. Get it here and now; due to high demand and small batch supply, it's already sold out in many places!

2019 DATERRA VITICULTORES 'AZOS DO POBO'

Laura Lorenzo has become one of the most revolutionary winemakers in Galicia, raising ancient vines organically and biodynamically on plots recovering from industrial use. Hand-harvested grapes are de-stemmed and fermented with wild yeasts. The wine sees french oak for 12 months, and then is bottled without fining or filtration. The result is a rustic red with dark fruit and layers of complexity including deep expression of its slate soil, floral aromatics, violet, black pepper. Enjoy with pork, charcuterie, duck confit, koji steak, and an unctuous ramen.

Just like the food, the libations we serve at PAGU celebrate makers that are responsible and sustainable. The majority of beverages are produced by female makers with native yeasts, using organic, natural or biodynamic practices.
